

Fantastic refurbishment at The Polurrian on the Lizard

'Shearwater', a stylish, self-catering cottage, is the latest addition to be unveiled at the recently refurbished Polurrian on the Lizard. With a private hot tub boasting uninterrupted west-facing views out over the Atlantic, the new suite is the ideal spot for relaxing, sundowner sipping and stargazing.

Shearwater offers an open-plan lounge, kitchen and dining area, a spacious double bedroom with stunning views over Mounts Bay, a cosy bunk-bed room for two, a stylish new bathroom and large private terraces with a hot tub. Set just off the coast path and with the hotel facilities on its doorstep, the stand-alone, two-bedroom suite is perfect for romantic couples' escapes, family breaks, and footsore hikers ready to soak weary muscles. Well behaved dogs are welcome too.

Designed to the same high standard and featuring similar fixtures, fittings, and original artwork, Shearwater compliments Polurrian's six luxury self-catering Villas. Guests enjoy full access to the hotel's private beach, restaurant, Health Club, swimming pools, Vista Lounge, Cinema Room and Games Room – as well as 24/7 reception staff.

This follows the launch last year of the Island Suite, a separate wing of the hotel with three bedrooms, a fitted kitchenette, a private terrace and hot tub, as well as exclusive and complimentary use of an electric Nosmoke buggy.

Shearwater costs from £199 per night for a minimum of three nights (sleeps four), www.polurrianhotel.com.
