Scottish legends Texas are the latest act to be confirmed for the 2025 Eden Sessions. Following on from their critically acclaimed sold-out UK arena tour, Texas will be bringing their popular, crowd-loving live show to the home of the world-famous Eden Project Biomes on Thursday, June 12. They will be joined by singer-songwriter and fellow Scot KT Tunstall.

Fronted by Sharleen Spiteri, Texas will showcase five decades of music, from the worldwide classic I Don't Want A Lover to the modern-day hits of Mr Haze and Keep on Talking. With more than 40 million albums sold, their songs continue to resonate with fans across the world including the ever popular Say What You Want, Summer Son and Inner Smile.

Rita Broe, Eden Sessions managing director, said: "We are really excited to be bringing Texas to the Eden Project for what is sure to be a special show. This will be an incredible opportunity to see one of the icons of British indie-pop in our unique and special location."

Texas will be joined by Grammy-nominated, BRIT Award-winning musician KT Tunstall, who burst into the music spotlight with hits such as Suddenly I See and Black Horse on the Cherry Tree from her 2004 multi-platinum debut album Eye to the Telescope.

KT is no stranger to the Eden Project, having performed on the Sessions stage in 2008 and famously performing Black Horse and the Cherry Tree from a hot air balloon in the Rainforest Biome for its 10th birthday bash in 2011.

Tickets for Texas at the Eden Project on Thursday, June 12, 2025, cost £50 plus a £6.50 booking fee and are available through www.edensessions.com.

Tickets are now on sale to Inside Track pass-holders. The general ticket sale is at 6:30pm on Monday, December 16, 2024.

Texas are the fifth show to be announced for the 2025 Eden Sessions. Already confirmed for next summer's Sessions are Gary Barlow (June 18), The Script (June 25), Deftones (June 26), and Madness (July 12). More artists will be announced soon.

In September 2019 the Eden Project and global live events company AEG Presents announced a new partnership, Eden Sessions Ltd, to run the Eden Sessions.
