

Press Release – Autumn 2025

Restore and relax - Introducing 'Daskor' by Kosel – a brand new Treehouse sleeping up to 5 – and available this Autumn.

Daskor makes its debut as the newest and most distinctive addition to Kosel Treehouses.

The only treehouse in the South-West that can sleep up to 5 – this purpose-built treehouse blends careful design to create a space that is equally suited to couples wanting to splash out on the extra space, friends finally making the group chat plans happen, or families seeking a summer of adventure.

Daskor's rare blend of design, space and seclusion just minutes from the Cornish coast offers flexible accommodation and something for everyone.

Set among new woodland, and a stones-throw from gorgeous Gweek, Daskor features two separate bedrooms with king sized beds and luxury linen bedding. A statement living space with floor-to-ceiling windows, and an outdoor bath offer uninterrupted countryside views. The architect-led design combines minimalist Nordic interiors with locally sourced materials, crafted for connection, stillness, and seasonal views.

Outside, a private seating area comes complete with a chiminea and wood-fired pizza oven, perfect for slow evenings under the stars.

This elevated escape is ideal for autumn getaways — whether it's stargazing from the deck, soaking up the golden-hour light, or unwinding after a windswept coastal walk.

Kosel Treehouse is owned and operated by husband-and-wife team Patrick and Maddie Spink. Maddie said, "Daskor is Cornish for restore, that's the spirit we wanted to create. Cornwall has so much to offer – but after a day exploring, there's nothing like returning to luxury and relaxation."
